TOPICS OF THE TIME.

A LADY IN PARIS

is introducing a new fashion in regard to furniture. She is having all her chairs, sofas, and even her carriages, stuffed with aromatic herbs, which fill the air with an agreeable, but not too powerful perfume. The fashion is derived from the Eastern nations, and prevails extensively over a considerable part of Asia.

At Hingham, Massachusetts, an old house has been recently demolished that was built by John Folsom about the year 1640. He was the founder of the family, and came to America from Hingham, England, in 1638. Afterward, the Folsoms settled at Exeter, New Hampshire. Many of the Folsom family are now visiting Hingham and securing pieces of the old house as relics.

The winters in Russia are becoming colder every year, and the summers hotter, more dry and less fruitful, owing to the destruction of the woodslands, the clearing of these lands has caused such an enormous evaporation that many once capacious water-courses have become mere swamps or are completely dry.

PROBABLY there is no country on the face of the earth in which a change of government could cause less interest than in the case of Spain. The appearance of a new monarch has about as much significance as the appearance of a new Spanish cabinet. The moon changes, but the moon is always the same. So with Spain. Whatever revolutions, mutations of dynasties, or forms of government, it is always Spain, or in other words, political intolerance, cruelty, chronic civil war, and an utter refusal to keep pace with the progress of mankind, or enlightened either by its own experience or that of others.

It was announced recently that England intends to occupy and appropriate the whole of Papua, or New Guinea, a very rich and valuable region in Australia, but it seems that under the decision of President MacMahon in the Delagoa Bay case that she can not do so.

The award to Portugal in that case was made on the ground that the claim of a nation to territory, based on first discovery, and even on temporary occupation, was a valid and inextinguishable one, and as the Portuguese discovered New Guinea in the sixteenth century, they can not be dispossessed of the country by England.

THE French laws regulating hunting have some peculiarities. The huntsman must have a license, and licenses are not issued to men who have been imprisoned for felonies or have been convicted of damaging trees or crops while hunting, nor to any who are under sixteen years of age, unless parents or guardians request

it. The price of a license is twenty-five francs. A land owner, however, may hunt unrestrictedly on his own ground.

Fashion prescribes that a huntsman should wear a hat shaped somewhat like a double-peaked jockey cap and adorned with a silver horse-shoe, a dark red or blue coat with many pockets; trousers buttoned at the knees to long yellow gaiters; and a game-bag slung over his shoulder.

POSTMASTERS in Japan are not like the kind we have in the United States.

The postoffice in all the provinces," says the Postmaster-General of that country, "are owned by the postmasters, whose salaries are very small and entirely insufficient to compensate them for their services alone. For the present, however, they are satisfied with the small payments made them, because they are proud of being employed in the service of the Government, and, understanding the true object of the establishment of the postal system, they deem it honorable to voluntarily perform such duties as tend to benefit and promote the welfare of the public." He philosophically adds: "It is to be expected, however, that the spirit of our people will change and they will become more mercenary."

Two bankers named Willmersdoer, at Augsburg, Germany, have been sentenced to four and three years' imprisonment respectively, for defrauding the so-called Brown Sisters, a union of unmarried women for the purpose of prayer and good works. Two years ago the Sisters drew the first prize of one hundred and seventy thousand florins in the Bavarian State Lottery. The bankers offered to get the money for them, but instead of handing them specie they delivered Austrian paper money, which was then twenty-three per cent. below par. They produced, moreover only one hundred and sixty-four notes for one thousand florins each, pretending that they had forgotten the other eleven, whereupon the Sisters told them to keep the latter for their trouble. On the other hand, the Sisters, recently, the Sisters broke up the society and divided the property. Discussions arose in the course of the distribution, and some of the Sisters called in the services of lawyers.

The result was that the fraud was discovered.

SPOTTED TAIL has dropped one million dollars in his price for the Black Hills. The other day he stated positively that he would stick to seven million dollars. He now asks six million dollars. Some of his companions want fifty million dollars. Delano told Red

Cliff last spring that twenty-five thousand dollars was sufficient. The Indians are probably going to stick to the million. It is doubtful if the Commissioners will conclude their business at the Council.

A CONVENTION of the Sunday-school workers of all denominations in the State of Virginia will be held in Richmond, October 6.

A NUMBER of "rovers" from East Tennessee passed through here this week on the train, destined for the Far West. Joy and peace be with them.

We would urge our correspondents to mail their communications to us in time to reach us by Wednesday, as when they come later, it delays us, somewhat.

A THIEF, one night last week, stole a set of buggy harness from one of our citizens and then "borrowed" a horse and buggy from another and took a night ride.

AN interesting letter from Pine Hill, giving full details of the "Jesse James" capture, would be published, if the facts were not already known to the public by this time.

J. E. BRUCE, one of the best Livery men in this State, is better prepared than ever, to furnish the public with everything in the line of his business. Try him once, and see for yourself.

CHILLS and Fever are on the rampage everywhere. It is a firm that should be forced into bankruptcy at the earliest day possible. Its dissolution would create universal satisfaction.

UNCLE TOMMY BALL says that some "incendiary" entered his garden the other night and split his cabbage heads open both ways. The wretch don't deserve to have cabby slaw for dinner.

A DANBURY man has determined to frown down such excessive folly in fashion as striped stockings and the like. She says her son "shall not keep company with any girl who makes a circus of her legs."—News.

OUR "devil" is not a felon, by any means, but for two weeks or more, a fellow on his thumb has "deviled" him greatly, so much so, in fact, that he has been unable to work. The laundress, however, has placed him on the convalescent list.

THE first County Court held in this (Lincoln) county, was held at Harrodsburg on the 16th of January, 1781. Benjamin Logan was the Judge—being the first County Court Judge the county of Lincoln ever had.

THERE are over 140 miles of turnpike road in Lincoln county. Considering its area, there is not another county in the State, which can show a greater number of miles, and our pikes are made of the best gravel and limestone.

R. H. THOMSON and family left the West End the other morning for Texas. Their purpose is to join the family of Mrs. T's father, Col. Wm. M. Carpenter. The best wishes and warmest prayers of numerous friends go with them.

E. B. HAYDEN, the senior member of the firm of Hayden Bros., spent two weeks in the Eastern markets, purchasing goods for the Fall and Winter trade. The entire stock is now open, and they invite the public to give them a call.

WE gave our Trustees credit last week, when it was not due them. The tide draining, we spoke of, was a private enterprise, and not a public one. Nevertheless, it served to point out a much needed work, and good may result at last.

SEVERAL deaths have occurred at, and near King's Mountain Tunnel, during the past ten days, of malarial fever. The doctors in that locality, as everywhere else in the State, are busy attending the sick. So far, however, but few deaths have occurred.

WE request our readers to examine the new advertisement of Mr. N. B. Tevis, in this issue. It will be seen, therefore, that he has just brought on a fine lot of ladies' Misses' and children's box-toed shoes. Give him a call and examine all of his nice goods.

DR. P. P. TRUBERT, one of our most estimable young citizens, left here on Wednesday last, and will attend the Louisville Medical Hospital during the Fall and Winter months. He has been a close student, and will, doubtless, "make his mark" in the profession he has chosen.

THE ELEGANT—Every day brings new developments about that burglar who ransacked a half-dozen houses the other night. Capt. Phillips says he took some money from his pocket book, but was kind enough to leave the pocket book. He also got something to eat at Dr. Merriam's.

Miss BETTIE, daughter of Mr. Robert Blain, of Stanford, is visiting Mrs. C. A. Zachary, of this city. Miss Bettie is a beautiful and accomplished young lady, and our young men are always pleased to have her visit our town. You bet our junior editor will make a short hunting trip.—Somerset Reporter.

DEAD—Near Harrodsburg, on Monday, the 27th inst., of paralysis, very suddenly, Mr. James C. Wright, one of our most esteemed citizens. Mr. Wright was originally from England—lived for several years in Pulaski county, and more recently in Lincoln. He was a true type of the old English gentleman.

THE lawyers of Lebanon, will make an attempt at the next session of the Legislature of Kentucky, to have a Court of Common Pleas established in their District. This is desired on account of the great number of cases which have accumulated upon the Docket in the various counties of their District.

WE learn that Mr. Ballou having visited and explored the whole western and southern country, has purchased a home near Stanford. This argues well for the judgment of the purchaser, and is at the same time a striking attestation of the fact we all know so well—that Lincoln can boast of the best land on the continent.

THE suit instituted by Judge M. H. Owens, against the editors of the "Somerset Reporter," has been withdrawn, as we learn from the Danville Advocate, as the "amicable handshake" was made, and the Judge is not the man to persecute any of his fellow-citizens. The matter grew out of a misunderstanding, and we are glad that it has been amicably settled.

THE captured robber in Fentress county, Tennessee, is thought to be Cole Younger. Mr. Owen, the Cashier of the bank at Huntington, will arrive at the jail there, tomorrow, for the purpose of identifying him and getting the money from the Sheriff which he found on the robber's person. A photograph of Younger has been sent down there also.

MR. JOHN H. CRAIG, of the "Trade Palace Store," returned from the Eastern cities last Monday, and informs us that he purchased the largest and choicest stock of goods ever shipped to one house in Stanford, and he desires all his customers, and the public generally, to wait until all are opened, before buying elsewhere. His goods are arriving by every train.

A MULE team standing on Lancaster street, last Monday, was alarmed by the incoming passenger train, and ran down by the Court House, but was halted by a man who happened to be near the scene of action. No damage was done except the breaking of an axle and the coupling-pole. The driver was eating his dinner at the time the team started. He neglected to tie the animals.

Last Tuesday night a number of pistol shots were heard on the streets of town, between one and two o'clock. The parties who are out at that unusual hour are not on an honest mission, and it would be well to have the matter investigated by our Trustees. Perhaps these same parties are the individuals who are trying to enter the dwellings of some of our citizens at night. If so, they may yet meet their just deserts.

NICHOLS, who was tried at the late term of the Boyle Circuit Court for the murder of a man named Peach, was found guilty of murder in the first degree, and his punishment fixed at death by hanging. We learn that a motion was made by his counsel for a new trial, which was not granted, and he has taken an appeal to the Court of Appeals. This will defer the execution of the death penalty for nearly, or quite, a year.

SUN ECLIPSED.—We fear that but few of our readers had the pleasure of witnessing the partial eclipse of the Sun last Wednesday morning, as it occurred too early in the morning for the most of them. It occurred almost immediately after sunrise, and lasted until nearly half-past seven. We enjoyed the curious "spectacular" display. Only about one-fifth of the orb of day was shadowed, which covered the lower left hand corner.

THE lower part of our State is greatly afflicted with chills and fever, as we learn from the papers published down there. The disease seems to be of a mild type, however, and but few deaths have occurred. That part of the State being low-lands, the malaria shrouds to a greater extent than in higher latitudes like our own county. If persons seeking new homes would visit that part of the State they would find a healthy locality.

HAYDEN BROS., are wide awake. They have just received a tremendous stock of goods, including their Fall and Winter supplies, and are now prepared to sell them at prices never before offered in Central Kentucky. If they do not sell you the best goods at the lowest prices, it will be your own fault, as they are determined to spare no pains in trying to give you the best goods at the lowest price. Go and see Hayden Bros., when you come to town.

THE venerable John Steele preached in Hustonville to a large congregation on Sunday last. The scene was very affecting. The speaker is nearly ninety years of age, and very infirm. Most of those present had known him from their earliest infancy, and as he stood before them bowed and tottering with age and his dim eye lighted with something of its wonted fire, and his feeble voice rang out again with fitting power, tears were seen to fall from eyes unused to weep.

THE rascally burglar or burglars who entered several houses, the other night, will find it dangerous to repeat the experiment, as we never saw as many people rubbing up pistols and shot-guns in our life, as were performing that operation the day after the discovery. Several gentlemen have set the newly invented burglar alarm, and this has been known by experiment to alarm the inmates of the house without alarming the thief which places the latter at the mercy of a shot-gun or pistol.

OLD RECOLLECTIONS.—One hundred years ago, last March, one John Kennedy made a deed in this county to his brothers, of 1500 acres of land lying on Silver creek, now in Madison county, and the consideration therefor was six horses—"one named Keelin"—six cows, two kettles, and other household furniture, and 100 bushels of corn. These lands are now worth over $75,000. William May was the clerk who recorded said deed, or "testament," as it was then called. It was recorded on the 18th day of April, 1781.

ELEGANCE, ease, durability, safety, speed, get-up-and-toddliness—all combined with cheapness, and plenty of accommodation at Portman & Owens' Livery Stable. Their horses are all fat, sleek, fresh, and well-trained; their vehicles are new, elegant and splendidly caparisoned; their stable and office are convenient, and eligible at all hours, day and night. There are a few reasons why they should receive the bulk of public patronage. It is worth three dollars and a-half to hear Joe discuss that turnout, and pedigree that fiery, untamed steed, as he passes over the strings, and bids you travel lively and tarry long. Try Joe, everybody.

ANOTHER ROBBER CAPTURE.—Mr. White, Cashier of the National Bank of Monticello, wrote to the Cashier of the Farmers' National Bank of this place, that the Sheriff of Fentress county, Tennessee, and his posse, captured another one of the Huntington, West Virginia, bank robbers, on Tuesday, of last week. The rascal had on his person, $4,194 25 in bills ranging from $100, down to 25 cents, fractional currency, and two large army pistols. The Sheriff of Fentress, is the same officer who arrested Clay Drye and Bill Wilson. He has demonstrated his efficiency as an officer, very clearly, and deserves the praise of all law-abiding citizens. We hope he will get a reward commensurate with his services and intrepidity.

GEO. D. WEARENS, has concluded to extend his new brick house back the entire length of the main building, which will give it a depth of about 60 feet. This will make one of the finest business houses in town, and situated as it is, on the corner of Main and Depot Streets, it is in the best place for business. Having associated with himself, Mr. J. W. McAlister, they will aim to open a stock of goods averaging over $10,000. We learn that they will slaughter the coming season, 1000 hogs for the purpose of supplying home and adjacent markets. This is commendable, because there is no use or profit in shipping our hogs to Louisville to be butchered, and then reship them here for sale, as is done all the time. Besides, it will give employment to work hands, furnish offal to our citizens at a moderate price, and the intermediate profit on the animals will be saved.

A NICE DRIVE.—A reporter of the Journal, in company with a friend, took a ride the other evening out the Mason's Gap road, and after getting to the foot of the gap, they went "over the hill to the poor house," where they found the delicious wild Summer grapes hanging from numberless trees and bushes. This is one of the most delightful drives around our section. Leaving the top of the gap you pass along a wooded ridge two miles long and four or five hundred feet high, to the pike at Hall's Gap, from which mountain the landscape far beneath on a level plain can be seen for fifteen or twenty miles, and that the spire of the Court House at Lancaster can also be seen, when the leaves are off the trees. A finer piece of scenery cannot be found in all this region, and the drive from there to town, five miles, is over a splendid pike. We advise our young folks to take this drive in preference to any.

BURGERS ABOUT.—On Monday night, last, a number of houses in the suburbs of our town, were either entered, or an attempt was made to enter them. The burglars entered the houses of Captain Phillips, Dr. J. B. Owens, and John McRoberts, Sr., but failed to get anything, either in the house of the latter gentleman, where they succeeded in getting about $12 from his pocket book, which was in his possession. The houses of John Wallace, J. R. Warren, and Asher Owens, were also visited, but the burglars failed to make an entrance, and left without getting any booty. This is one of the first attempts made in a long time, to burglarize the houses of our citizens, and we now, war all of them to be on their guard. Fasten your windows and doors, securely, and be sure to keep a well-loaded shot gun, and a pistol or two, and the scoundrels and thieves would give such places a wide space. Our neighboring town of Danville, has suffered from the raids of burglars on several occasions, but the thieves only tarried a short time. It grew too hot for them. We would also enjoy it upon our friends in the country, to prepare for these scamps, as they may visit them at any time.

LAND, STOCK, AND CROP ITEMS.

CATTLE AND MULES.—I have fifty good, smooth steers, from two to six years old—also, eight well broke mare mules, about 15 hands high, from four to six years old, all in fair order, that I wish to sell.

L. A. LANIER, 185-21 Mill Springs, Wayne Co., Ky.

A FEW years since, the trade in live stock on our County Court days, was quite meager—now, there is quite a change. The average number of cattle and other animals offered for sale on these set days, varies from 100 to 400 head; and the prices for which they sell, will compare favorably with those obtained in any other town in Central Kentucky.

FINE COWS.—Mr. James Crow, of this county, who owns a fine farm of several hundred acres on the Hanging Fork bottoms, brought to our office, the other day, a number of ears of white corn, raised on his place this year. We have seen much of the present year's crop, but are bound to admit that the specimen before us surpasses anything of the kind we have ever seen. The ears are large and long, and the grains are close together. Not an unusual grain can be found. He says his entire crop is excellent.

WINCHESTER COURT.—Mr. Geo. W. Alford, of this county, attended the County Court at Winchester, Clark county, last Monday, and reports that there were between 1200 and 1500 heads of cattle on sale, mostly common grades—wholes sold for prices ranging from 2 to 5 cents. One lot of extra Jessamine county cattle, 20 head, sold for 5 cents, scales weight. Al. Jones and Son, of this county, sold 50 head of extra yearlings, average weight 850 lbs., at $7 50 per head. One lot of cattle from Louisville, 60 head, average weight 1100 lbs., sold for $45 per head. One lot of 50 Garrard county cattle, average weight 1225 lbs., sold for $58 per head. They were not extra, but very good stock. Mr. Alford says that at least 500 cattle were not sold. The market was quite dull. He bought 213 head of Mountain Ewes, in Garrard county, as he came home, at $2 90 per head, and drove them to the Lexington market for sale.

LINCOLN COUNTY NEWS.

Hustonville.

THE great topic of the times, is the Exposition. Most of our citizens have availed themselves of the opportunity to visit the great cities at the time of the great Carnival. Dr. Alcorn is the most honest man we have seen, for he frankly avows that he is going to "Old John Robinson's Circus."

MANY of our readers will recognize the portrait of a distinguished preacher of our village, exceedingly tall, slender, sallow, and, when not engaged in eating, looking very much like a convict escaped from the prison bars of the tomb. Well, the person was fortunate enough the other day, to secure a marriage fee, on which he resolved to bank for an "Excursion and Exposition Ticket." He did the show, and then concluded to do the city. In the course of his perambulations, he attracted the attention of an itinerant vender of Stationery, who approached him with jubilant expression, and seizing his hand, exclaimed: "Why, my dear old friend, I am truly rejoiced to see you able to be up and out again! How do you feel to-day?" The person was somewhat mystified by this cordial salutation from one whom he failed to recognize; but politely replied: "Sir, you seem to have the advantage of me."—"Yes, yes," was the ready rejoinder: "I am in excellent health. But you are gaining, sir, gaining! Buy a dime worth of paper, and write to your friends, the glad news of your convalescence." The person called a cab with the vague directions: "To the Depot." Of course, he was taken to the wrong station but finally reached home, thankful for his deliverance.

JIM McRUPP, the paragon of characters, has had his stage coach painted a flaming red; and as its motor dash is seen in the rays of the declining sun, glancing among the trees and glittering from the hill tops; we hail its advent with that pure and buoyant delight, which can be produced and enjoyed only in the sequestered village on the arrival of the primitive stage coach. We wish that Jim could be persuaded to procure a bugle, or at least, a long tin horn. Talk of music in the tame notes of the piano, or the discordant braying of a Band, or the inflated self-important tones of the swelling Organ! But for the very soul and sublimity—the crystallization of melody, commend us to the cheering, inspiring, exalting, and glorious deliverances of the unpretending old stage horn.

WE are informed that Messrs. Kerr & Tarkington, have secured the contract for ties on the division of the C. & E. R., extending from Shelby City, to Somerset, comprising 112,000. They are now on the line, looking out for timber.
